SIDELL, Ill., Dec. 16.—Three Linton, Ind., bank robbers were riddled with bullets by a posse of Indiana and Illinois officers in a cornfield six miles north of here and two of them were killed and the third badly wounded.

Bandit bullets in turn wounded a Clinton, Ind., policeman, and in an earlier fight on the Indiana side seriously wounded Joe Walker, an Indiana posseman.

The deadly fight occurred after a mad pursuit at 70 miles an hour for nearly 40 miles, from Clinton, Ind., where the bandits raided the Citizens State bank, a $600,000 institution, this morning and robbed it of $7,000.

Credit for the overwhelming of the bandit gang was given to Sheriff Boyetta of Clinton, Ind., who with a remarkable shot knocked the machine gun out of the hands of one of the bandits at the critical moment.

The fate of S. W. Gilbert, cattle buyer of Dana, Ind., whom the bandits kidnapped in their dash to escape from the posse, was not learned.

PA NEW OBSERVES

It is an ordinary thing to see icicles hanging from the edges of roofs and window sills, but it is a strange phenomenon when an icicle shows itself on the brim of the hat worn by a man walking down East Washington street. Yes, Pa New saw that.

Pa New took a journey up to the Margaret L. Henry children's home on Monday afternoon. He looked in at the children's dormitories and never before saw a more spic and span place. The children take great pride in keeping everything clean and in arranging their beds just so.

County women living outside the city are becoming more and more interested in home economic classes that are formed periodically by home economics workers. This afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Young, near East Brook, Hickory township, Mrs. Dorothy Etter will conduct an organization meeting of classes. Home work projects are always interesting.

With the big game hunting season in Pennsylvania at an end last night, most of the Lawrence County hunters are back from the woods. It is believed that more hunters from Lawrence County bagged a deer this season than ever before in the county's history.

More and more the approach of Christmas is being heralded by the addition of lighted trees and decorations about the city. Christmas is just a week from Thursday.

Many of the churches of the city will have their Christmas programs on next Sunday. A considerable number however will observe Christmas at the services the following week.

House Declines To Slash
$60,000,000 To $30,000,-

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Republican leaders of the house today were analyzing their first defeat by the house membership, in an effort to carry out the policy of President Hoover's administration, and the immediate future of the $60,000,000 drought relief bill was clouded in uncertainty.

Apparently suffering from the same restlessness of spirit that has marked deliberations in the senate, the house declined to slash the $60,000,000 bill to $30,000,000 and pass it under suspension of rules as demanded by Republican leaders.

While Speaker Longworth and Rep. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader, commanded a majority of 250 to 149, they were unable to obtain the two-thirds vote necessary to carry out their plan.

The action threw the $60,000,000 bill to loan federal funds to farmers to buy food, feed and seed for next year's crop, back into the house agricultural committee for a hearing.

While the house leadership stood for a $30,000,000 bill, which also was supported by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, their greatest fight was waged against permitting the money to be used to buy food. This, they hold, establishes a precedent for appropriating money to buy food in peacetime.

Republican Leader Tilson appeared angered by the almost solid Democratic stand against his plan, while Rep. Garner of Texas, Democratic leader, declared it marked the end of "gag rule" in the house.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec. 16.—Einstein left New York flat and is headed for Hollywood.

If he's got a theory that nobody knows what it is, or what it's all about, why there is a half dozen companies here that will buy it and produce it along with these enigmas of our own that we put out.

His theory is that, "there is no space." Wait till he sees the vacant room on some of these miniature golf courses.

Well, we will be waiting for him here. Hollywood can meet him on equal terms. We don't know what his "racket" is, and vice versa.

Sheriff Foils Attempt To Saw Bars Of Window

Vigilance Of Frank Johnston Prevents Frank Taylor From Escaping Jail

DISCOVERED WHEN
ONE BAR IS SAWED

Two Saws, Stolen By Taylor
From Plumber's Kit,
Found By Deputy

Vigilance of Sheriff Frank N. Johnston prevented a possible jail breaking last night when he discovered that Frank Taylor had sawed one of the bars in the south-west section of the jail and was preparing to saw another to make an opening large enough to get out. Taylor admitted his attempt to escape and was charged with jail breaking by Sheriff Johnston in an information made before Alderman Green.

Sheriff Suspicious.
For several days past Sheriff Johnston has had a suspicion that something was going on in that section of the jail. On Sunday evening he stationed himself in the law library of the court house where he could command a view of two windows in the southwest corner of the jail, as he figured that these windows would be the most vulnerable part of the jail. The distance from the windows to the ground is about 25 feet.

Failing to get any clue through his vigil at the window, yet feeling that something was wrong, Johnston began a consideration of who, among the 36 prisoners in the section, would likely attempt a jail break. Glenn Dague and Irene Schroeder are not in that part of the jail, so that they were eliminated. Johnston finally came to the conclusion that if there was an attempt being made to break jail it must be by one of two persons. Taylor who was one of them. (Continued On Page Two)

H. W. Lightner, Lawrence and Mercer counties superintendent of the state department of highways today confirmed a report that the department of highways is planning to replace with concrete the macadam paving on the New Castle to Harlanburg highway.

Lightner declared state engineers have finished a comprehensive survey of the four-mile stretch of macadam, one of the oldest improved roads in the county, and added that the highway department will advertise bids for its construction early in the spring of 1931. Work on the cement surface is expected to be well under way shortly afterwards.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 16.—The pendulum of fate today swung again in favor of Irene Schroeder, "Blonde Gun Girl," and Glenn Dague, her paramour who faces death with her in the electric chair for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul of the State Highway Patrol, as the result of respite issued by Governor John S. Fisher late last night.

Last week, the governor set January 12 as the date for execution of the pair.

New Date February 23
Last night, after considering appeals from attorneys for the doomed pair, the governor issued respite for both, staying the date of execution from January 12 to February 23, so that both might appeal to the State Pardon Board at its February meeting.

Under his previous action, it was pointed out to the governor, no appeal to the pardon board would be possible, as the board met today for its last meeting until February. Because of the inauguration of a new governor next month, no schedule of the board was fixed for January. Attorneys for the Gun Girl and her companion, who have fought to save them from the death sentence, carried their appeal for a respite to the governor and after considering the records and pleas submitted, the governor issued the respite order.

Prisoners Pleased
Irene Schroeder is happier today. With Christmas over a week away she was the recipient of a Christmas gift today from the governor of Pennsylvania, a gift of a few more weeks of life. Governor Fisher granted a respite for her and (Continued On Page Two)

Discuss Plans To Patrol Hill Districts And Check Robberies

Indications are that extra steps to guard against burglary will be taken by Police Chief Cyrus Horner inasmuch as robberies are now being staged immediately outside New Castle.

Yesterday Councilman Reeves, discussing the situation informally, said that in his belief the hill districts here could be given fairly good protection were "cruiser cars" purchased.

Reeves said he would be willing to "ride along" with Mayor W. H.
Gillespie if the mayor, as superintendent of police, deemed it necessary to purchase two inexpensive automobiles.

"Police could ride in the machine
at night, cruise through the different streets and would be in a position to notice any suspicious persons. The sergeant could be kept apprised of their location almost all the time."

Reeves said he had not yet broached the proposition to the mayor but made it plain that he would be only too willing to give the mayor any support he needed relative to "cruiser cars" which could be bought cheap.

Today Police Chief Horner said that considerable good could come from such cars.

SENATE SLOW TO ACT ON RELIEF MEASURE

Believe Senator Watson's Speech Will Act To Restore Harmony

Senators Await Reports Of Relief Conditions In Home States

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Pleading for peace, harmony and cooperation, administration leaders faced new obstacles today in their effort to enact President Hoover's personal recommendations for relief of unemployment and agricultural distress.

Despite the fervid appeal of Senator James E. Watson, Republican leader, for support of the president, the senate indicated an intention to thoroughly investigate the unemployment situation to determine if Mr. Hoover's remedies will provide adequate relief. There was just as much an intent to enact additional legislation if inquiry reveals the president is too optimistic over conditions, or his own remedies.

Tension Lessened.
Watson's speech, in which he sought to act as peace-maker between the White House and congress, lessened the tension on Capitol Hill.

The Indiana senator at least side-tracked personal attacks on the president and won renewed pledges of cooperation from Democratic leaders. His declaration, though, that private and semi-public relief organization could take care of human suffering throughout the country was contradicted by Senator La-Follette (R) of Wisconsin, who read labor reports from a score of cities, revealing acute distress for "which there is no relief in sight."

The LaFollette statements, based on research of the American Federation of Labor, prompted even staunch Republicans to declare they would investigate conditions in their states immediately, to determine whether congress should appropriate for food, clothing and shelter. Watson himself telegraphed to Indiana for a report on conditions in that state. Whether these administration senators support outright relief appropriations will depend on reports from "back home."

Hoover Bills Shaky.
Both the president's bills faced difficulties of enactment. The house, although a majority supported the president, refused to waive its rules to permit immediate passage of his $30,000,000 food and seed loan bill for relief of drought states. It

Payroll Bandits Get Stiff Terms

Three Twenty-Year Old Ban-

PAYMASTER ROBBED
ON BANK STEPS

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 16.—Three twenty year old bandits were in jail here today, preparatory to a long ride to the eastern penitentiary to serve from ten to twenty years, the verdict of a judge who sentenced them eight hours after holding up the paymaster of the Humbert Coal Company and taking a satchel containing $1,400 in front of the First National Bank of Jessup.

Less than eight hours after they committed the crime, the bandits
Louis Mancuso, son of a wealthy Archbald meat dealer, Christopher Tomaino and Albert Taldo, all of Archbald, confessed their guilt and were immediately sentenced by president Judge E. C. Newcomb.

Mancuso pulled a gun on Edward Loftus, paymaster of the coal company and demanded the money which he was carrying in a satchel.
The trio of bandits jumped into a Ford truck and left the town of Jessup, followed by Vincent Loftus, brother of the paymaster, who witnessed the holdup. The truck overturned several miles from Jessup, and the boy-bandits took to the woods and were captured by State Police and county officials three hours later.

The money was recovered from a hot air register in the Mancuso home.

THE READING CIRCLE HAS CHRISTMAS TEA

Associates of The Reading Circle were charmingly entertained Monday afternoon, in the parlors of the First United Presbyterian church, at their annual Christmas party which was in the form of a tea social. This being guest day, was marked with an attendance of seventy.

Following the responses to roll-call, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Ralph Cooper who had charge of the program. The first feature was a three act play appropriate to the occasion given by the pupils of the sixth grade of the Lincoln and Garfield school under the direction of their instructress, Miss Mildred Updegraff. Mrs. James Rugh delightedly entertained with three vocal selections "Go Tell It," "Now Sleeps The Crimson Petal" and "The Hills of Home" which were well received. Miss Pauline Shultz gave in her pleasing manner, two piano solos, "The Value" and "The Butterfly" followed by Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger who had the closing feature which consisted of a fascinating Christmas story.

The guests were then served tea by the social committee, composed of Mrs. James Crawford, Mrs. Thos. Elliott and Mrs. Burr Rodgers. The pourers for the afternoon were Mrs. Jake Resitz and Mrs. W. W. Sniff. This brought to a close, a most delightful afternoon, and one that will go down in the annals as a decided success.

The next regular meeting of the Circle members will take place on Monday, January 5 at the home of Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, Laurel boulevard.

CIRCLE '91 CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT MONDAY

The home of Mrs. W. H. Gillespie of Rhodes place, was a fitting setting for the Christmas party given by the Circle of '91 members when they gathered Monday afternoon. A goodly number were in attendance, and participated in this enjoyable affair.

Roll-call was responded to with a Christmas thought, and later, the program in keeping with the occasion was given, preceded by a brief business session. Mrs. Thomas Lindsey gave "Original Christmas Story" while "A Talk on Humming Birds" was the topic selected by Mrs. James Cole. Both features were given in an excellent manner, and were highly entertaining to those listening.

At the appointed hour the entertainment committee, comprising Mrs. C. D. Parker, Mrs. W. J. Marshall and Mrs. J. M. Blackwood, took charge of the social hour. Tea was served in the dining room by the refreshment committee, which included Mrs. W. H. Gillespie, Mrs. Carmi Glover and Mrs. Thomas Lindsey, the latter two being the pourers. The table was beautiful with silver service, with Christmas tones blending in adding beauty to the arrangement.

A Christmas tree, beautifully decorated, and other ornaments in keeping with the season will be used, and will lend an air of festivity, adding to the enjoyment of the affair.

Plans have been furthered for some time for this gathering, and it is anticipated to be one of the most successful ever undertaken.

WOMAN'S CLUB YULE PROGRAM

Monday afternoon the members of the Woman's Club of New Castle gathered in the Highland United Presbyterian church for their Yuletide meeting with Mrs. R. G. Maxwell chairman of the program and Mrs. William Moody and Mrs. George Balph as hostesses.

Mrs. A. B. Street, president, was back in the chair for the business session, after an absence caused by illness. Many matters of business of interest to the club women were brought up at this time, among them being the adoption of resolutions in the death of one of the club members, Mrs. Chester P. Reynolds; the election of a nominating committee; an appeal for a small portable victrola for the children's ward at the Jameson Memorial hospital, and the adoption of a World Court resolution.

Mrs. W. A. Pond, chairman of the educational committee, announced that Mrs. C. C. Taylor, state worker of the Blind department, would be the speaker at the next meeting, January 5. Mrs. Taylor will have with her hawk of the blind from the state institution and will tell of the work there in which the Woman's club is interesting itself this season.

At the close of the business session Mrs. Maxwell announced the carol singing with Mrs. Helen Urmsen Felch leading, assisted by Miss Lottie Nicklin and Mrs. Ernest Greiner, who sang "The Christmas Carol." The club members joined most spiritedly into the singing of the familiar Christmas songs.

Mrs. Maxwell then introduced Miss Pearl Hutchison, director of dramatics in the Highland school, who presented a group of children from Grade 5B of the Highland school, who produced "The Dream Dolls" a Christmas story of the dolls in a toy shop coming to life. The little folks presented the spectacular performance with the nonchalance of grown up artists, the colorful costumes of the dolls adding a riot of shades to the scene. Several splendid drills and dances were presented by the children in a beautiful manner which called forth much applause from the women. Miss Helen Allen directed the singing of the group. The women of the club extended a vote of thanks to Prof. Leslie, principal of Highland school, for his co-operation in allowing the children to entertain Monday.

Closing the program the women were invited to partake of tea in the junior room of the church where Mrs. A. B. Street and Mrs. Robert M. White presided at a table beautifully laid with an exquisite banquet cloth centered with her roses in a silver bowl, tall lighted white tapers in silver candle-labra shedding a soft glow over the beautiful silver and dainty china.

STITCH A BIT YULETIDE PARTY

A Yuletide air of festivity was strongly brought out at the Christmas party of the Stitch a Bit Club Monday evening when the members met in the home of Miss Helen McKibben, Winslow avenue.

A large Christmas tree in the corner of the living room was surrounded by packages of all shapes and sizes tied with flashing ribbons and marked with Christmas seals and the evening hours were given over to fancy work cards and games.

At a late hour the hostess invited the girls to the dining room and as they entered the oh's and ah's expressed their delight at the scene presented for the table was beautiful with a centerpiece of red roses, which with the green of the leaves brought out the yule colors. Each place was marked by a small Christmas tree and the salad was in the form of a small tree, the colors being skillfully carried out throughout the menu.

As the delicious menu was concluded the girls made for the Christmas tree and each picked out the package intended for her and upon opening it, found a beautiful personal gift.

Sixty-eight members of the Business and Professional Women's club of New Castle gathered in the green room of the Y. W. C. A. and enjoyed dinner and a social time Monday evening. This marked the occasion of the annual Christmas party.

Dinner was served at about 6 o'clock. Each place on the prettily arranged tables was marked by clever little pastebord candles. Red and white tapers with red and green crepe bows were set at intervals along the tables.

Each member brought a ten cent toy in addition to a garment or money for shoes. These articles and the money were presented, following the meeting, to Miss Della Glenn, executive secretary of the Associated Charities, to be distributed among needy families at Christmas time.

Under a brilliantly lighted Christmas tree the toys, garments and money were placed in separate boxes. They were later distributed to each member by the committee in charge and a short time was spent in "playing" with the toys. There were baby dolls, trucks, Zeppelins, monkeys, racers—toys of every description. Needless to say the "play" time was greatly enjoyed.

About $23 was realized by the money donations. Miss Glenn will use that to buy shoes for children in need.

The business meeting conducted by President Nancy Bechtol was a short one and the meeting was adjourned before 8 o'clock. Miss Lucille Lutton and Miss Edythe Dunlap gave the only reports of the meeting. Miss Lutton reported that over $70 was realized from the Saturday bake sale.

Miss Helen Hinkson led in the singing of Christmas songs. Miss Evelyn Biggins accompanied on the piano.

Credit for the success of the party goes to the members of the social and recreation committee, who had complete charge of the event: Mrs. J. M. Butler, Mrs. Jennie Nesbit, Mrs. Ella Wolford, Clara Balch, Helena Burkart and Maude Chapin.

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR SEMPER FIDELIS

Mrs. Alfonso Scarzaro of Hazelcroft avenue pleasantly entertained the Semper Fidelis Club members in her home Monday evening, the event being in the form of a Christmas party. After the usual exchange of gifts, the hours were spent informally with cards and music.

A special gift of the evening was presented to Mrs. A. Scarzaro which was the guest favor, and Mrs. H. H. Fazzone, and Mrs. Charles DeCarbo were also recipients of prizes.

At a selected hour, the hostess invited the guests into the dining room where they were seated about a table beautifully decorated in bright tones of green and red, with novelties of the season blending in. An elaborate repast was served, bringing another enjoyable affair to a close.

Modern 500 Club
Mrs. Fred DeJane of East Washington street will be hostess to the Modern 500 club members on Thursday at a 1 o'clock luncheon. This will also be the Christmas celebration for the club members.

DELTA DECK CLUB HAS ANNUAL PARTY

Miss Rosena Rice of Richelieu avenue, was a charming hostess Monday evening when she entertained associates of the Delta Deck Club at their Christmas party. Cards formed the chief pastime, bridge being selected, and lovely favors for honors were awarded to the Misses Lucille Emery and Constance Priestley.

At a late hour, the guests were invited into the dining room where the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. Jesse N. Rice, served a very delicious collation. The table was beautiful in its appointments and novelties suggestive of the Christmas season, with tall tapers in crystal holders being placed at either end. After the menu had been enjoyed by candle light, the members adjourned to gather on Monday, January 5 at the home of Miss Thelma Seroka on Hillcrest avenue.

RESTRICTING FIREARMS SALES

EVERYWHERE throughout the nation there is being projected as one means of checking the epidemic of hold-ups and crimes of various sorts, the idea of halting the promiscuous sale of firearms. Many ideas are being presented for restrictions on sales of weapons, increasing penalties for the use of weapons by criminals, etc.

In the Cleveland Plain Dealer suggestion along this line for the state of Ohio is found, which could well be extended to Pennsylvania and other states. That paper says:

Every experienced policeman knows that gunoting breeds crime. Chief Matowitz is talking common sense when he urges a tightening of the state firearms act.

Ohio has made a very meager start in regulating the sale and use of firearms. It is still possible for those who have no right to own weapons to get them easily in any desired quantity.

After a recent bootleg shooting in Cleveland almost enough artillery to equip a Central American army was discovered close by. It was acquired to "shoot rabbits," its owner explained.

The chief proposes no sale of firearms without a license obtained from the chief of police or sheriff, no sale to a known criminal, a minor, a habitual drunkard or an alien, identification and bonding of purchasers.

He suggests stiffer penalties for carrying weapons illegally and that possession of a weapon while committing a felony shall be penalized by an additional sentence.

Matowitz's suggestions to the Cleveland Bar Association committee which is assisting in the revision of the criminal code should be given a careful consideration by the lawmakers at Columbus.

Disarming prospective criminals is a simple but effective way of crime prevention. Many an idle youth might be saved from a gunman's career if it could be made practically impossible for him to get a gun.

PRODUCTIVE MONEY

That adage, "Shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves in three generations," doesn't apply to American-made fortunes.

Whatever the ability of Americans to make fortunes, there is one feature of their prosperity which is undeniable—their propensity for holding on to the mighty dollar once it is within their reach. Riches do not always beget carelessness among America's "best families."

All the outstanding fortunes amassed by Americans have been increased by their heirs with one exception, that of the Gould millions, and in this case it was the fact that the heirs were strongly bent in getting all that was coming to them that caused the fortune to diminish through legal fights.

Fortunes grow in the United States. Riches beget riches; money attracts money. "To him who hath shall be given."

It is a fine thing to find millionaires and their heirs provident and putting their millions to productive use. Wastrels keep money in circulation by taking it out of production and expansion.

But there has come a time when the rich must give. They must forget profit and loss for a moment and think of millions destitute through unemployment. Many of them are responding out of pure generosity and compassion, grateful that they can alleviate human misery.

There will be some who will place in jeopardy that prosperity which has been benevolent to them by hoarding their wealth when it should be working, making jobs and buying food. The latter are the sort who inspired that demand in the senate for a "tax on the rich."

WHERE PRIDE CONQUERS HUNGER

It has often been pointed out that there is a class of sufferers from extreme poverty that it is very difficult to aid. They shrink from anything in the nature of charity, however considerably offered. They will not patronize bread lines or soup kitchens.

The Church of the Transfiguration in New York, better known as the Little Church Around the Corner, has set up a free lunch room for women out of jobs with none of the marks of most such institutions. It might be any restaurant, and those who visit it are screened from the public gaze. Even so, many in dire need of food pass it by or enter only after great hesitation.

Their feelings are easily understood. Yet in a case like this they show a false pride. Three hundred women in their position visit "The Good Samaritan," as it is called, during the luncheon hour, and there is no reason for shame in accepting help so graciously given. But the experience of this undertaking is, after all, not surprising.

Those who have never before taken what they could not pay for constitute perhaps the most difficult problem of all in times like these.

Still, a woman never makes a fool of a man without his wholehearted co-operation.

There was more propaganda than justice in the trial of the Russian engineers for treason.

Even if women do have more sense than men, you never see a man with powder on his nose.

Becoming sophisticated is merely a process of turning illusions into disagreeable memories.

In the old days the reformed drunkard joined the church; now he sells his experience to a magazine.

Many a man ultimately succeeds because he has the ability to look prosperous and happy when he is neither.

That union of the dominions and colonies of Great Britain seems to have been a companionate marriage that failed.

When a man loses anything else, he advertises for it. But, paradoxically, when he loses his head, he stops advertising.

There is no word in our language to describe the "friend" who gets rid of a peddler by telling him you will probably be interested in his proposition.

The National Association of Audubon will make every golf course a bird refuge. It must have misunderstood the kind of "birdies" golfers cry for.

Why not settle the argument between the president and congress over who is to spend the $150,000,000 emergency fund by letting the people spend it?

"Now if I were president of the United States—"

"Yes, a fine president you would make," interrupted his mother-in-law.

"Wouldn't it be great if my Daddy was president?" chimed in the daughter. "I'd dress in the finest gowns of the latest styles from Paris with fifty dollar hats, and wouldn't those Jones girls be just green with envy? I'll say."

"See," exclaimed the son, "if my dad was president wouldn't I make things lively for some folks I know? I'd get me a swell coupe and break all speed laws, and I'd drive right through the red lights and make a snout at the traffic cop and he wouldn't dare arrest me because I'd be the president's son."

"By the way, dear," inquired his wife as she handed him a cup of coffee, "what were you going to say you would do if you were president?"

"I'd resign as quick as the Lord would let me," he replied.

KEEP GOING!

Often, too often, in my life I have been a bad sport. I have whined, I have complained, I have railed against life and said it was treating me badly.

I have called it a fly-trap. I have thought men and women mean and worthless and shallow. I have been afraid. I have feared poverty and sickness and loneliness and I have gone down into hells of self-pity and self-digust. I have hated my own pessimism, even as I soothed and encouraged it.

And then, from somewhere, I have felt a Lift. My spirits have risen. I have seen a glow on the faces of men and women. I have seen a gleam on the dull horizon and I have come up out of the darkness—to be ashamed of myself and to wonder why I was so foolish, so blind, so lacking in faith, so ungrateful for this chance to be alive.

I do not know why we fall into those ghastly pits. I cannot tell you what brings us back from them into quiet and thankful sanity once more. But I know that this happens to me and I am sure that it must happen to everyone else. There may be old men and women who are "always the same," who have "even dispositions" and who never lose heart and never change. Some people SEEM to be like that, and yet I do not believe they really are. I think that most of us are poised between ecstasy and despair and are swung by small forces in this direction or in that.

We are waiting for a Lift. We are expecting other people or some mysterious force we cannot describe to come along and make us what we ought to be. We KNOW what we want to be, but we are not going there under our own power. We get into a mud-hole and somebody pulls us out. "Somebody" always has pulled us out—somebody with more courage and more hopefulness than we have—and we fall to believing that somebody will always be at hand to give us that Lift we expect.

In a way, we hitch-hike through life. We stand by the side of the road and raise a begging hand. And there are two kinds of Hitch-Hikers: there are those who Sit and Wait and beg for rides, and there are those who walk while they wait, who are looking for a Lift—and are getting somewhere in the meantime.

And I hope we can be like those fellows who walk while they wait, who keep going under their own power, who want a Lift but who keep on walking. . . . I expect a little help. I hope I get a Lift from life, but I pray I have courage enough to keep going . . . keep going . . . keep going . . . until the Lift comes along.

WHY DOCTORS AREN'T MORE SUCCESSFUL

Man is a weakling at the best. Temptation sore besets him. Though by the doctors told to rest The urge to battle goes him. Let him but feel relief from pain, Out of his bed he hurries; Believing he is well again, He takes on all his worries.

Not only is the drunkard weak, The thin dyspeptic, pale of cheek, Is tempted by a dinner. Though told on milk and eggs to dine Since good red meat upsets him; The moment he is feeling fine The smell of beefsteak gets him.

"Not now, not now," the doctor cries, "Stay till a few weeks longer!" But every man from bed will rise When he is feeling stronger. Tell him there's death in apple pie, Ten thousand times repeat it, But when the pain has passed him by, He'll run the risk and eat it. (Copyright, 1930, Edgar A. Guest.)

Going Home for Christmas

If you cannot go home Christmas write a letter to your folks.

Your presence is most desirable, but if you can't visit the old home, at least write a Christmas letter.

If it is pleasure in the city where you are located that keeps you from going home, you are selfish and unkind.

There may be little of interest to you in the old town.

From the standpoint of social incentive there may be no satisfaction for you in the entertainment provided in the old home place.

But family ties should be stronger at Christmas time than your desire for entertainment.

What is giving up the social diversion of your city crowd compared with the comfort it would be to your parents and relatives to have you home?

You owe the homefolks more than you can ever pay—dollars won't pay.

But to be with them on Christmas Day, when their strongest thoughts are going out to you, when their greatest desire is to see you—that pays them.

Your parents look back to the past Christmas when you were a child and long to be able to give again the pleasure they once saw in your face. Go home if you can. It not, write a letter.

Meeting Him Halfway.

Merchant—Look here, you've been owing me this bill for a year. I'll meet you half way. I'm ready to forgive half what you owe.

Debtor—Fine! I'll meet you, I'll forget the other half.

Complaint From Railroads Reaches Sympathetic Ears

Public Believes Some Means Must Be Found To Maintain Equal Justice Between Old Lines And Their Competitors In Modern Traffic

Complaints by the railroads that they suffer from excessive regulation while their motorized and other competitors have greater freedom is seriously received by the American public, which shows an open mind toward corrective legislation. The rail lines themselves demand definite action. Although justice in their plea is recognized, caution is advised against laxity in dealing with transportation.

Vigorous expression of opinion comes from the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, which feels that "it behooves the public to consider the plight of the railroads and make earnest effort to remove the cause of their growing troubles." Pointing out that "government builds highways and permits at a nominal charge," The Times adds: "Self-interest alone should cause the public to demand that the operation of bus and truck lines should be placed upon a basis that would compel them to compete with the railroads without subsidy by the government."

"How to adjust the situation equitably," says the HARTFORD TIMES, "is not an easy problem to solve, yet consideration for the railroads' plight in the battle to retain patronage should be greater than it has been in the past. If the railroad's patronage diminishes, the rate for it must increase. Public convenience and necessity demand a due and suitable proportioning of transportation charges with all public transportation under a common regulatory policy. Otherwise there is inevitable increase in the nation's rate of living. A well-rounded betterment in the service, and safety for the vast investments involved in providing it. The legislative problem suggested is becoming more and more urgent with the passage of time."

"Although the railroads are not extending their lines to new territory," observes the SEATTLE DAILY TIMES, "they have been tremendously active during the last decade. They have improved their road beds, built double tracks on their main lines, increased the power and efficiency of their locomotives and have established a new record in the hauling of freight, rolling stock, car shortages are now unheard of, although car loadings have reached unprecedented heights. The country would make a serious error if it pressed its hampering regulations to a point where the railroads could not command new capital. If the transportation lines are to continue to give efficient service they must be permitted to earn a reasonable return on their capital investment."

"The issue which the rail men raise is one that must be faced, in justice to them and to the public which is still primarily dependent upon the service given by these carriers," declares the PORT WATNE NEWS-SENTINEL, while the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR remarks: "The railroads have done much of late years to their credit, and since the period in which they were the object of attacks in legislation and otherwise, public sentiment toward them has greatly changed. There came a larger appreciation of their service."

"Unquestionably the logic of the situation is with the railroads," in the judgment of the BIRMINGHAM NEWS. "As long as congress sees fit to regulate both their income and their output, it cannot, without impairing railroad service, refuse to protect them against unregulated competition. As the transportation act stands now, it is the duty of the Interstate Commerce Commission so to adjust rates as to enable the carriers to earn a fair return on the value of property used for transportation purposes. Even in years of heavy traffic the contemplated fair return has not been earned by all. This year, with traffic down and competition keener than ever before, it will probably not be earned by many major transportation systems. The situation is one which congress can hardly ignore."

"With their increasing army of stockholders," advises the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL, "the railroads are certain of a hearing. . . . They will insist on regulation of waterways, canals, oil and gas companies, buses and trucks corresponding to regulation which is imposed on railroads. The only stipulation that that may be raised to such a program is that regulation of other transportation should be such as is appropriate in each case, and as is first of all in the public interest. Excessive of strangling regulation is not desirable either for railroads or for other public utilities."

The matter is viewed with caution by the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL, which comments on the present campaign for improvement of conditions: "While the economic position of the railroads is of importance to all inland points where there is much bulk freight to be moved long distances by rail, the history of the decline of the railroads in power is even more significant. Other combinations of interests have made their threat and have been curbed. Folks who used to get excited over the power of the railroads have long since sought other interests to become excited over. Yet the people and the government are ready and able to meet any present or future threat, just as they have defeated those of the past."

"Anyone who has watched the trend of railroad earnings as reported on the financial pages in recent months," advises the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, "will be disposed to agree with the railroad men that they are in need of relief and any one aware of the importance in our economic structure of the railroads will see the need for restoring the railroad credit. The end will not be achieved by harassing other forms of transportation, but by relieving the railroads of their burden of excessive regulation. That is the good which the railroad executives should aim at."

"Forty years ago," recalls the RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER, "the railroads were united in opposition to any regulation. They said they owned the roads and the trains and had a right to run them as they pleased and charged what they pleased. In spite of their opposition, regulatory laws were enacted by state and national governments. Today the railroads, suffering from bus and truck competition, are demanding that the same strict regulation applicable to railroads shall be enacted as to other transportation agencies. They were wrong 40 years ago. They are right now."

The birth rate in the birth registration area of the United States, which includes about ninety-five per cent of the population of the country, was the lowest in 1929 since the establishment of the registration area in 1915, according to a statement given out by the Bureau of the Census October 23rd. The infant mortality rate was the second lowest on record.

Significant of the "declining birth rate," the Bureau said, is the fact that twenty-five States had birth rates last year below the average rate for the registration area. Oregon had the lowest birth rate of any State, and for the sixth consecutive year, had also the lowest infant mortality rate. The Oregon infant mortality rate was forty-eight, which is the number of deaths of infants under one year old per 1,000 of live births.

Eleven States had the lowest infant mortality rates on record for them, while two others equaled their previous low records. New Mexico had the highest birth rate, 26.9, with

Asthma Found Oftener In Child Than In Adult, Says Dr. Clendening

Diet High In Fats Tried With Good Results To Relieve Asthmatic Paroxysms, Particularly In Youngsters

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Asthma is found more often in children than in adults. It often lasts from childhood through adult life. Quite as often a child will "outgrow the asthma," as the saying is. Asthma comes on in paroxysms. During the paroxysms the breath seems almost shut off. It is known now what occurs to the afflicted person. There are muscular bands around the smaller air tubes in the lung. During the asthmatic paroxysm these muscles go into spasm and shut off the air tubes or greatly diminish their caliber. This causes the difficult breathing. Usually the asthmatic experiences more difficulty in getting the air out of the lungs than in drawing it in.

What causes the muscles to go into spasm? These muscles are of the smooth or involuntary kind; they are under control of the will, but under the control of the automatic nervous system. Some stimulus must affect the automatic nervous system which causes it to constrict these little muscles around the air tubes.

About 15 years ago, cases of asthma brought on by particular foods began to be reported. Thus a child was found to be sensitive to wheat bread; whenever it ate wheat bread an attack of asthma occurred. The wheat apparently stimulated the automatic nervous system and threw the muscles around the air tubes into spasm. Many kinds of foods were found which caused this sensitivity.

The results of treatment—by withdrawing the offending food from the diet—along this line have recently been summarized. Fifteen years of experience! Different physicians differ in their reports. Some say that they relieve 90 per cent of their asthma cases in children, some that they relieve only 40 per cent. The reason for this discrepancy is probably that all the cases are not followed closely; a child is dismissed as cured and so marked on the physician's record; then another attack occurs and the child is taken to another physician, the first doctor never knowing that the asthma has recurred. It is certain the higher percentages of cures reported are wrong. About 50 per cent of children with asthma are relieved on the food sensitivity theory.

Recently Drs. Peshkin and Fine-man have reported good results in the uncured group with a diet high in fats. This is the so-called ketogenic diet, because the decrease in starches and increase in fats induces the occurrence of ketone or acid bodies in the blood.

The diet is as follows:
Breakfast: One-half an orange, 1 cracker, 1 glass milk.
Dinner: One cup broth, 1/2 cup vegetables (5 per cent carbohydrate content), 1 square of butter, 1 glass of milk.

3 p. m.: Glass of milk.
Supper: One cup broth, 1-4 package cream cheese, 1/2 cup vegetables (5 per cent), 1 1/2 squares butter, 1 glass milk, 1-4 glass cream (rich), 1 cracker.

There are 1,200 calories in this diet, enough for a child of 50 to 60 pounds. After a few days' trial, a half glass of cream can be added to the breakfast, one-third cup fish or chicken to the dinner or supper menu.

If no improvement is noticed after three weeks' trial, the diet should be discontinued.

Editor's Note: Four pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope. To Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Hygiene of Women," "Infant Feeding," and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles," and "Tuberculosis."

Penn Willing To Reimburse Wray

University Of Pennsylvania Willing To Pay Deposited Coach Sum of $28,000

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—University of Pennsylvania officials are quite willing to pay J. R. Ludlow Wray, deposited football coach, the $28,000 his contract calls for during 1931 and 1932, but want to do so on the installment plan, it was revealed here Monday.

Wray would be paid in monthly installments over the two year period, it is understood, with the stipulation that what money he might earn elsewhere in that time would be turned over to the council on athletics.

Friends of Wray predicted the proposals would meet with his bitter opposition.

As to a successor to Wray, none is expected to be selected, it was said, until early in the spring.

"Just to stop all the rumor and speculation," John Arthur Brown, chairman of a special committee of the Penn Athletic council investigating the football situation announced, "The question of choosing a new coach has not even been discussed. It is doubtful if a successor to Lud Wray as head coach will be appointed before early in the spring," Brown added.

Pulaski Hunter Gets Bear In Forest County

Lawrence (Pete) Mitchell, of Pulaski is one of the few Lawrence county hunters to shoot a bear this season and according to hunters who were with him he followed the bear and when he could get within shooting arm he sent a bullet through the bear's heart, dropping him dead with one bullet. Mitchell shot the bear near Marionville in Forest county, Saturday about noon.

The group of hunters was composed of Lloyd Mitchell, Ralph Ayers, Harry Campbell and a famous bear hunter of the region, J. O. Grolemond.

According to the hunters the bear weighed about 200 pounds and all of them had a "bear dinner."

The bear killer plans to have the skin made into a rug.

The Secret of Successful Saving

If you were to ask us to tell you, in one word, the secret of successful saving for the average man or woman, we'd answer: Regularity.

Philadelphia Brothers Announce Purchase Of Famous Havana Gambling Resorts

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—The Kaelker brothers, Dick and Charles, have taken over the gambling concessions at Havana, Cuba, for five years at a contract calling for immediate payment of approximately half a million dollars, according to reports here. The reports were confirmed today by Dick at his home here, but he refused to give the details of the arrangements.

The concessions include the Casino Nacional, reputed to be one of the largest gambling houses in the world; the Oriental Park Casino, the Oriental Park race track, five American bars and the La Playa gambling and bathing resort. The properties have a valuation in excess of $20,000,000. About 500 men are employed in operating the concession at an estimated cost of $20,000 a day.

Outbid Rivals.

To get possession of the rich gambling territory and the various concessions, Kaelker revealed, he and his brother had to outbid French and English gambling syndicates.

The properties are owned by the Cuban-American Realty Company and are operated on a legitimate basis as the Cuban government takes a percentage of the earnings and furnishes legal protection.

The two brothers in the Havana deal and "Mac" Weinbeck, were arrested in 1929 charged with being the heads of a gambling syndicate here and later pleaded guilty to the charges and were fined $1,232 each. Their arrest came about shortly after District Attorney John Monaghan assumed office and proved one of the sensations of the "racket" jury investigation of 1928 and 1929 which resulted in an upheaval in the police department, the firing of several police officials and the conviction of more than a score of blue-coats.

Steps To Balk Harmony Plan

Beaver Falls To Fight Proposed Ellwood-New Castle Freight Line

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Dec. 16.—
Plans to oppose the plan of the Harmony Short Line Transportation company to install a system of freight buses between this city and Ellwood City and New Castle, were formulated at the regular session of Beaver Falls council this morning.
As a result of the discussion Solicitor Elliott will voice the city's protest at a meeting in the City-County Building, Pittsburgh, Tuesday morning, December 23, at 9:30 o'clock.

The matter was brought to the attention of council with a communication to the effect that permission of the Public Service Commission to operate the buses between Pittsburgh and New Castle
via the Babcock Boulevard, etc.;
between Beaver Falls and Ellwood
via Route 38; and between Beaver Falls and New Castle via route 18 and Ellwood City would be asked.

The intent of the company was protested by Hanauer who declared that as long as the freight car continued to operate on the trolley right of way, a bus service was not needed.

It was brought out that the Harmony Short Line Transportation Company was a different corporation from the Harmony Street Railway Company, but the stock was owned by the latter company.

George Foster Needs Some Help

Trying To Make Living Selling
Chewing Gum, Candy
And Peanuts

George W. Foster, everybody knows George, who sells little souvenirs at Cascade Park in the summer, unable to walk without the aid of crutches for the past sixteen years, and with the outlook of always being compelled to use crutches.

Business in the past summer was none too good. The funds accumulated to keep him this winter are meager. But George is ambitious and very anxious to keep himself.

You can see him every day, no matter how cold the weather,
spending the afternoon and evening
on Mercer street, near the Capitol or the Penn Theatres, offering his chewing gum, candy or peanuts for sale.

He would appreciate all possible patronage now as it would mean a better and brighter Christmas, also some assurance of a living during the balance of the winter months.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses shown us during the sudden illness and death of our wife, mother and sister, Mrs. Sara Fray. Also we especially wish to thank those who donated use of automobiles.

EAST SIDE TREE PRETTY PICTURE

Standing at the corner of Butler avenue and East Washington street is a large, beautiful Christmas tree, recently erected by a group of East Side residents.

Not all the decorations are yet on the tree, according to Miss Rosina McGurk, of Butler avenue, but in a very short time it will be complete. Some new fangled mirrors add to the attractiveness of the tree.

There will be no Christmas eve program beneath the tree this year.

Highway Sum Is Recommended By House Committee

Agricultural Supply Bill Reported Today Carries Federal Aid Highway Sum

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Approval of $137,500,000 for the Federal Aid Highway system was recommended today by the house appropriations committee in reporting the annual agricultural department supply bill carrying $213,043,702 to run the department next year.

The Highway fund is boosted $51,500,000 over last year's figure as a part of the general expansion plan to relieve unemployment. A total of $125,000,000 is made immediately available to match state funds for highway work while the rest is available after July 1.

In reporting the bill, the appropriations committee for the third successive time cut budget estimates in an effort to establish an economy record.

The entire bill is $875,338 under the recommendations of President Hoover although it is $51,516,663 more than was appropriated last year for the agriculture department. The chief increase is for highways.

Emergency Construction
The committee also recommended $773,175 for emergency construction.

The fund was recommended by Mr. Hoover in his proposed $150,000,000 lump sum emergency fund which was reduced originally to $110,000,000 with a promise to consider the balance in regular bills.

The bill increased by $10,000 the annual fund for extension of fruit frost service in the lower Rio Grande valley and $5,000 for extension of weather service to winter garden areas.

A total of $45,000 was allowed for increased aviation weather service around Washington and Boston, but a budget proposal to increase the Hawaiian Airways service $32,340 was disallowed.

Other Funds Provided.
Other funds were provided for further extension of aviation weather service, including extension of the three-hourly system of forecasts to southwestern states. Sharp increases were provided for the agricultural department bureaus dealing with grain futures administration, crop and livestock reports. The Washington office was given $15,500 additional to study grain movements and prices especially the study of stock market influences and "certain irregularities practiced by grain brokers in connection with the handling of customers accounts with a view to curbing certain unethical and illegal trade practices fundamentally harmful in connection with future trading."

Business District Of Small Delaware Town Threatened

(International News Service) SHELBYVILLE, Del., Dec. 16.—Fire for a time today threatened the entire central business section of this city and the home of U. S. Senator John Townsend Jr., when a residence and garage went up in flames.

The property was owned by Ira Magee and occupied by Horace Pepper. The loss was estimated at $15,000.

Pedestrians hurrying to the blaze added to the excitement when they found the body of Levin Murray, 60 year old retired business man. He had apparently fell victim of a heart attack possibly brought on by the excitement caused by the fire, physicians said.

Lions To Sponsor Party For County, City Blind Monday

Service Club Seeks Blind As Guests For Fete In First Christian Church

Striving to make their Christmas party for city and county blind persons a huge success, officers of the New Castle Lions club at a weekly luncheon meeting today made final plans for the affair which will be held in the First Christian church, Monday at 6:30 p. m.

A fund was raised shortly before the conclusion of the meeting this afternoon after several valuable prizes had been raffled off to members.

Members of the Lions Club were given names of blind persons living in the city and county who will be visited and invited to attend the Christmas party. Members and their wives will entertain the blind.

According to W. O. Williams, general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the party, an orchestra will play singers, speakers and readers will be heard. A Christmas tree will be lighted and gifts, included baskets of food will be distributed.

The other members of the committee aiding Williams in preparing plans for the party are: Earl E. Book, B. K. Thacker, W. Anson McKee, Jess H. Gibson and Ezra D. Marvin.

Federal Regulation For Stock Exchange Is Measure Proposed

Would Ban All Margin Trading And Inquire Into Bread Prices, As Relief Plan

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Federal regulation of the New York stock exchange with a ban upon all margin trading and an inquiry into bread prices were proposed in the Senate this afternoon by Democratic senators as a means of relieving national unemployment.

Senator Heflin (D) of Alabama, introduced a bill outlawing margin trading, limiting interest on "call money" loans to 8 per cent and placing the New York stock exchange under government regulation. Senator Wagner (D) of New York, declaring the high cost of bread when wheat prices have declined, introduced a resolution proposing an inquiry to determine why bread prices have failed to follow wheat prices.

Heflin assailed the New York stock exchange and charged that speculation there had caused "serious injury to the business of labor, the American farmer, merchant, banker, manufacturer and the railroads." He said he had no intention to halt legitimate trading in stocks but only to outlaw gambling and evil speculation.

FIRE INSURANCE A KEY TO LOW PRICES

FEW have a true appreciation of the far-reaching effect of Stock Fire Insurance in holding down the cost of all merchandise.

No less authority than the Encyclopedia Britannica contributes a "testimonial" as follows:

"In the United States, as in no other country, has insurance in all its various phases become universally recognized as an essential of commerce and industry. To this fact may be attributed in large measure the achievements of America in business enterprises.

"Insurance encourages men and corporations to hazard their resources on new developments without fear of loss from natural and unavoidable catastrophes."

At every step in the processing and distributing of materials—storage, manufacturing, transportation, wholesaling, retailing—the protection of Stock Fire Insurance contributes that indispensable element of certainty without loading prices for speculative risk.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE companies assume what would otherwise be an oppressive carrying charge against the risk of destruction, and for a premium which on the average is only a fraction of 1 percent of the amount insured.

The more than 250 Stock Fire Insurance companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters have rendered their services at an average price that has constantly declined for many years.

Busiest Week For Collegians Starts

Many Activities Listed At Westminster This Week

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 16.—This is the busiest week of the college year at Westminster, a study of the college calendar shows.

The last of the seven sorority "rushing parties" was held in the Senior Lodge last night when Phi Delta Chi sorority entertained freshman girls.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock, a piano recital will be given in the conservatory under direction of Miss C. Dorothy Kirkbride, professor of piano. Those who will take part in the recital are: Doris Shawkey, Polk; Ethel Denniston, Sharpville; Eleanor Sample, New Wilmington; Kathryn Johnston, Bellefonte; Lois McGill, New Wilmington; Mary Jane Stunkard, East Brook; Beulah Thomas, South Connelville; and Grace Kelly, West Middlesex.

Tonight at 8:15 the class in acted drama of the college will present two one-act plays, "The Dear Departed" and "Finders-Keepers", in the Little Theater. Professor A. T. Cordray has charge of the productions, and the student directors of the plays are Mary Nicholson, Worthington, and Helen Blaha, New Castle.

Wednesday at noon the "silent period" in the sorority rushing season starts and runs until Thursday at noon. Thus the actual "rushing" of freshman girls for sororities will extend until Wednesday noon.

A recital by students in the violin department of the conservatory is scheduled for 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the conservatory recital hall. Professor Eldon C. Murray, professor of violin, will have charge of the recital. Those who will be on the program are: Harold Guy, New Castle; Lowenne Swindler, New Wilmington; and Donald Cameron, Johnstown.

A number of fraternities and sororities have planned Christmas parties for Wednesday evening. Kappa Phi Lambda plans a Christmas party in the form of a dinner starting at 6 o'clock. In addition to the members of the chapter, six faculty members will be present as guests.

Regular Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. meetings will be held Wednesday evening at 6:45 in the Browne hall lounge and the Hillside parlors respectively.

Thursday at noon the sorority "silent period" ends and the pledging of freshman girls takes place. The whole afternoon will be devoted to entertainment of new guests and the first informal parties of each group to welcome the new members.

Christmas recess starts Friday at noon. Friday evening the Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity annual dinner-dance will be held at the New Castle Field Club. George Bannion and his Serenaders will furnish music for the occasion. The committee in charge includes Robert Weingartner, New Castle, chairman; Gibson Armstrong, Dormont; Rodgers Free, Philadelphia; and John Degelman, Pittsburgh.

The Christmas recess extends until Monday, January 5, at 4:30 p. m.

Plan To Use Trees As Narrow's Barrier

One Hundred Fifty Men Are Employed On Two Municipal Jobs

One hundred and fifty of the men who registered as being unemployed worked Monday widening The Narrows and constructing a storm sewer in Meyer avenue, east to the city line from Highways 4 and 5. Considerable progress was made according to the foreman's report to City Councilman Stanley Treser.

Construction of the sewer in Meyer avenue started last week. The trench is now being dug east of Delaware. The "cold snap" has made the work easier, according to Treser.

The Narrows has been widened farther toward Rural avenue and rock has been encountered. However, most of it is of a shale nature and can be pried from the hillside.

Trees which are removed along the bank are cut in eight foot lengths and will be used later for posts to be placed on the east side of The Narrows as the city plans to build a barrier along the thoroughfare.

According to Carmi Glover, foreman at Meyer avenue, and Frank Woods, along The Narrows, the men are working hard and are happy to get the work. The men work eight hours at a rate of 35 cents an hour.

An Iowa man has perfected a new kind of wheat that looks like barley and tastes like oats. Doubtless they'll use it to make corn liquor.

Jewelry Bandits Hunted By Police In Philadelphia

Daring Holdup Of Truck Driver
Nets Bandits $15,000
In Gems

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16—Haunts of the underworld were combed by police today in a city-wide search for three hardened desperadoes who kidnapped a jewelry truck last night, manacled the driver to the steering wheel, and escaped with $15,000 worth of jewels.

The robbery was boldly and perfectly executed in plain view of scores of passerby without arousing their suspicion. Thirteen cases of sparkling gems set in platinum, gold and silver were taken.

The trio invaded the garage where the driver, Adam Gimbel, was awaiting his employer, David Wise, a salesman for the wholesale jewelry firm of M. Sickles and son, of this city. Pressing pistols against Gimbel's chest the bandits climbed into the truck with him and drove several blocks away to their parked automobile. There they handcuffed Gimbel to the wheel of his truck, cut the wire screening on the truck, and placed the 13 jewelry sample cases into their machine and drove away warning Gimbel not to shout for help.

Suit Brought To Recover $65,000

Dominick Tiratto By Father, Wants That Amount From
P. & L. E. Railroad

Dominick Tiratto, aged 7, by his father, Rocco Tiratto, of Hillsville, has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad company to recover $65,000 for injuries sustained by Dominick when he had one leg cut off by a train. Dominick asks for $50,000 and his father for $15,000.

According to the statement of claim Dominick was playing with some other children at a playground near Hillsville. From the playgrounds to the village there is a path used by the children and by men going to work. This path crosses the tracks of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad.

On August 17, it is claimed that Dominick, with several other children, started home by this path. When they came to the railroad there was a line of freight cars standing on it. Some of the children crossed by climbing over or under the cars. Dominick was in the act of climbing under them when the train started and the left foot was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated.

It is alleged that one of the trainmen, who saw the children, had given the signal to start.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Texas Folk Organize For Parent Education

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
Head Division Parent Education,
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

A little while ago I spent three days at a state convention of the Texas branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers which met at San Angelo. Having lately read "Lone Cow Boy" I read also on the way "The Raven" to get some of the setting of the earlier days of Texas, as now and then I gazed from the car window across the endless ranches through the perfect sunshine.

The tenth has never yet been told of Texas. I learned some geography and unlearned a lot I once had learned wrong. It's a disgrace to our public school system to have so much ignorance perpetuated in regard to that big, rich and promising portion of our country.

Under the seven hundred delegates that came for many miles, some at great personal sacrifice, a few by train, but more had driven. Some mothers had so traveled several hundred miles alone. Dallas has a mother known as Pre-school Grace, who had driven over nearly all of Texas, organizing and conducting Parent-Teacher study groups of mothers of children under school age. Of such groups there are many hundreds in Texas.

The first to meet me were a number of mothers from several Texas cities who have been reading "The Parent Problem." It made me feel good to know that so many parents have been reading it. What pleased me most was to hear several say: "Dad also reads it; we read it together."

I was not scheduled for speeches but for conferences.

Although those parents seemed to think they learned something from me, it was I who learned most. It's from such contacts and from the many letters which the readers of this column write me, that I gather most of the concrete information which I am passing on to you. No teacher can learn much merely by writing and talking.

What pleased me most in Texas was to learn that a group of parents, representing all the leading clubs and other institutions of that state, are setting out to establish a foundation for parent education and child development at the state university, to be at the service of the parents of Texas, particularly for preparing leaders of study groups. Their goal is $500,000, which they have set out to raise from among the people of their state, each subscription given in the name of a child, living or dead! What finer memorial could anyone set up!

More and more in this country parents who have lost a child are honoring his memory by affording greater opportunities to other children still alive.

I also saw at that convention a beautiful demonstration of co-operation. Present were the founder of the Texas P. T. A. and all the ex-presidents, also the very capable Mrs. S. M. N. Mars, wife of the state superintendent of public instruction, and former state P. T. A. president, and lately national president of the congress of parents and teachers. Shoulders to shoulder all of them worked together for the welfare of the child, the home and the family. The P. T. A., better than any other organization I am familiar with, knows how to honor and to use its ex-presidents. This practice seems to be about ideal in Texas.

College Station Resumes Regular Programs On Air

WSAJ, One Of Oldest Broadcasting Stations In Country, To Give Programs

GROVE CITY, Dec. 16.—Announcements were made today by Grove City College officials, that they will start operating their broadcasting station, WSAJ, starting Thursday evening, December 18, at 5 o'clock.

This station, one of the oldest in the country, will present regular weekly programs each Thursday at the same hour.

The station was built under the direction of Dr. Herbert Harmon, head of the physics department of the college, when radio broadcasting was still in its infancy and regular programs were given for some time.

The programs will be sponsored by the college and the Grove City Commercial Club, a committee having been named to arrange the programs, most of which will be given by students of the school.

VIOLATE BLUE LAWS
Five Grove City merchants, charged with violation of the Sunday Blue Laws, were taken before Judge C. W. Madge, Monday, where they were fined $4 and costs, for keeping their places of business open on Sunday. The men who were arrested are at a loss to understand why they should have been singled out, when many others also violate the law.

It is said that the complaints were made by the Law Enforcement committee of the First Presbyterian church.

200 ATTEND BANQUET
Two hundred men enjoyed the banquet given by the Commercial Club to the men of the Cochranston, Stoneboro and Sandy Lake at the Penn Grove Hotel, Friday evening.

Frank P. Smith acted as chairman of the arrangements and G. C. Forquer, president of the Commercial Club acted as toastmaster. Grace was given by Rev. C. E. Petree of the Grace M. E. church. Mrs. Bess Kramer And Niece Meet Death On Railroad

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 16.—Attaches of the coroner's office today were completing their investigation of a train-auto crash at Mars, south of here, in which Mrs. Bess Kramer, 36, of Valencia, and a five-year-old girl Norma Jane Mahan, a niece met death last night.

The accident occurred at a crossing of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Mars. Mrs. Kramer, driver of the automobile, had stopped at the crossing to let an eastbound freight train go by. Unaware that another freight was approaching from the opposite direction, Mrs. Kramer drove onto the tracks, direct in the path of the oncoming train.

The automobile was dragged for 200 yards and wrecked by the train. Mrs. Kramer and the girl died a few hours later in Presbyterian hospital at Pittsburgh.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home
You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trifle at all to mix and costs but a trifle. Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

THE QUESTION BOX

Answers to questions on information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O., and enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions, nor will the estimated value of old coins be given.

When did the observance of the Sabbath originate and when did the Christian church change the observance from the seventh day of the week to the first day?

We have no means of determining when the seventh-day Sabbath was first introduced, but it is probable that it existed before the Babylonian exile. The Jewish Sabbath was observed on the seventh day of the week, Saturday, from very early times. In spite of Paul's contention that the observance of days was bondage to beggarly elements (Gal. iv. 9), various Christian sects have continued to keep the Sabbath to this day.

The Christian church itself has transferred to the first day, Sunday, many of the features of the Jewish Sabbath. We find the observance of Sunday as the Sabbath definitely established in the Christian church by the beginning of the fourth century. The Emperor Constantine confirmed the custom by a law of the state.

What are lichens?

Lichens compose a very large group of plants forming patches of color on tree trunks, rocks, old boards, etc., and also growing on the ground and hanging in clusters from the crowns of trees. The lichen is made up of two different plants, a fungus and an alga, so closely associated that they seem to form a single body. The alga manufactures food for itself and for the fungus, with few exceptions the lichens are parasitic.

Who was David Crockett?

David Crockett (1786-1836) was an American pioneer and politician, born in Greene county, Tennessee. He was a typical backwoodsman, unlettered but shrewd and skilled as a hunter. He served under Jackson in the war against the Creek Indians and was elected to the Tennessee legislature in 1821 and 1823. In 1826, 1828 and 1832 he was elected to congress, where his oddities of dress attracted considerable attention. At the close of his term he enlisted with the Texas forces, then in arms against Mexico, and in 1836 was one of the six survivors of the 140 defenders of the Alamo, where on March 6 the entire garrison was killed by Santa Anna's troops. Crockett was killed by order of Santa Anna on his surrender. Crockett's well-known maxim was "Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

Poincare's Illness Will Reach Crisis In Very Few Days

"No Change In Condition Of Former Premier" Says Attending Physician

(International News Service)
PARIS, Dec. 16.—The crisis in the condition of Raymond Poincare, former premier and wartime president, stricken suddenly ill, may be expected within two or three days, it was learned today.

In leaving M. Poincare's residence after an all-night vigil, the attending physician Dr. Louis Boidin said: "There has been no change in the patient's condition overnight, and I do not expect any before two or three days."

Specialists consulted at length but issued no statements. Although the exact nature of the 70-year-old statesman's illness was not made known, it was generally understood that it consisted largely of an irregularity of blood circulation, from which the political leader has suffered at times since an operation a year ago.

The Indiana Society of Chicago held a speechless banquet, but the chances are that most of those present will get even on some other organization. — The Indianapolis Star.

Amendments For Emergency Bill Are Unapproved

Senate And House Conferees
Fail To Agree On Senate
Amendments

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Senate and house conferees on the $116,000,000 emergency unemployment public works construction bill failed to agree today on some of the senate amendments one of which would limit President Hoover's authority to allocate the money to the various projects, and will report disagreement to their respective houses.

The senate conferees insisted on retaining the Robinson amendment which strikes out the house provision giving the President control of the money, the Couzens amendment providing for employment of local labor on all the projects, and the senate amendment allocating $1,600,000 for the repair of roads in flood areas in Alabama and Georgia.

The senate conferees accepted the compromise agreed to informally Saturday by lopping off $2,000,000 from $5,000,000 provided in the bill for maintenance of public roads on unreserved public lands.

Harry Cochran Gets Largest Bear Of Season

Has Been Sought By Clarion
County Hunters For Several Years

Harry Cochran, Moody and Wilmington avenues, has proven himself to be one of the big game hunters of the county for the present season at least by killing the largest bear shot in many years in Clarion county. It is believed to be the biggest bear shot during the season in Pennsylvania.

It is a black bear and weighed 300 pounds, when only partially dressed preparatory to bringing it back here.

The bear was shot last Saturday by Mr. Cochran. It had been attracting the attention of the hunters of that district for the past four or five years, owing to its immense size and aggressiveness. One shot landed the big fellow, the shot breaking his backbone.

Mr. Cochran had it on exhibit at the Pennsylvania Engineering works yesterday. Mr. Cochran plans to have the hide tanned and the head mounted.

Honors Sister At Afternoon Bridge

Miss Martha Smith charmingly entertained a group of guests in her home on North Walnut street, Saturday afternoon at a bridge party, in honor of her twin sister, Mary, who is home from Roxborough hospital at Philadelphia.

Three tables of cards were in play, and at the conclusion of the feature, it was discovered the success awards were won by the Misses Besse Hofmeister and Marg Watkins for honors, while the consolation favors was received by Mrs. Lester Miller.

Mrs. Harold Hill, of Butler, assisted the hostess in serving a dainty lunch at the small tables, which were prettily decorated in the season's tones.

Soup For 4300 Made In Week

Soup sufficient to serve 4368 meals was contributed in the past week by the Jameson Memorial hospital, according to Dr. Wayne Bissell medical director of the hospital. The soup was made by the hospital authorities, and turned over to the Mayor's Committee, the Salvation Army and the City Rescue Mission and the Police Department.

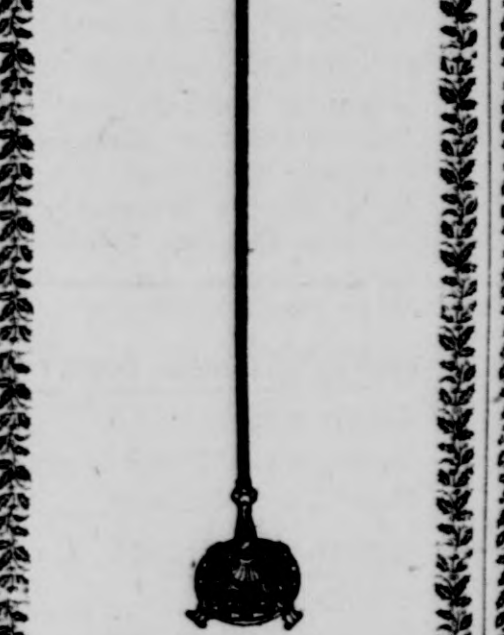

Each day a huge kettle of nourishing soup is made at the hospital and is distributed by the agencies mentioned. Part of it is sent to the municipal projects now under way in The Narrows and on Meyer avenue.

The Rescue Mission, the Salvation Army and the Police Department distribute it to cases that come under their notice. Dr. Bissell has asked that members of the churches of the city send in cases coming to their attention, to him.

Report Elk County Deer Killing Mark Heaviest In Years

Only One Serious Accident Reported From Elk County
During Season

(International News Service)
RIDGWAY, Dec. 16.—With the deer season brought to a close yesterday, Game Wardens in Elk County reported one of the heaviest kills in recent years.

The sale of licenses was reported over 800 above last year's figure, and was higher than any number in previous years.

One accident, that of Ferris Pennington, of Fairport Harbor, O., who yesterday had his right foot amputated after he was accidentally shot by a rifle in the hands of George Malee, was the only dark spot in the season.

Depression in work was given as the cause for the successful fall attack on deer, as many hunters were unemployed or eager to bring home the venison for Christmas.

Infringement Suit Filed By Curtiss'

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 16.—A suit charging infringement of certain patent rights granted Orville and Wilbur Wright in 1914 was on file today in the U. S. District court here against the Bellanca Aircraft corporation and the Ford Motor company.

The suit was instituted late yesterday by the Curtiss assets corporation, but no date was set for a hearing on the pleas for an accounting of profits and a restraining injunction.

The accompanying bill in the suit failed to disclose what specific patent rights the Bellanca and Ford firms were charged with infringing. The plaintiff merely asserted the defendant firms infringed on the patents by the manufacturing and sale of airplane apparatus.

Of Slain Man Describe
Details To Jury

(International News Service)
KITTANNING, Pa., Dec. 16.—E. H. Reigh, second prosecution witness, today told how he and his son, Robert, found the headless body of Joseph Conto, Leechburg pop manufacturer, as the commonwealth proceeded with its case against William Raper, Leechburg constable, charged with the slaying.

William A. Ashe, district attorney for Armstrong county, opened the case against the former constable this morning as court opened before Judge Graff.

W. G. Aaye, first commonwealth witness, introduced as evidence several blueprints and topographical maps of the location and terrain at the wooded section where the headless body was found last September 25, about 14 miles from Leechburg.

Hunter on Stand
The witness, who told the court he was a surveyor by occupation, presented drawings showing the exact spot where the body was found. Reigh, final witness before court adjourned for the noon session, testified he and his son came across the body while hunting in the woods near Leechburg. He described in intimate detail the condition of the body and clothing, as well as the locality where it was discovered.

The hunter said that when he stooped to examine the body he found the shoulders and remains of the head covered with a thick blanket of leaves.

Blaine Mast, former district attorney of Armstrong county, is defense counsel for Raper. He is assisted by Attorney Golden.

Selection of a jury was completed at the final session of court yesterday.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

32. George Rogers Clark—Francis Vigo

VINCENNES WAS RECOVERED BY THE BRITISH ON DECEMBER 17, 1778, BUT CLARK AT KASKASKIA, 200 MILES AWAY, DID NOT HEAR OF IT UNTIL THE 29TH OF JANUARY, 1779. LIEUENANT AT NOT RECEIVING FORTNIGHTLY DISPATCHES FROM CAPT. HELM, CLARK HAD SENT SCOUTS TOWARD VINCENNES TO INVESTIGATE, BUT ALL HAD BEEN CAPTURED.

MEANWHILE, HAMILTON, ON TAKING POSSESSION OF VINCENNES, FOUND COL. FRANCIS VIGO, A WEALTHY SPANISH MERCHANT OF ST. LOUIS AND TRUE FRIEND OF THE AMERICAN CAUSE, AMONG THE PRISONERS. HAMILTON LIBERATED VIGO ON CONDITION THAT HE DO NOTHING TO HURT THE BRITISH "ON HIS WAY HOME."

VIGO LINGERED AT VINCENNES LONG ENOUGH TO LEARN HAMILTON'S PLANS. EAGER TO WARN CLARK YET TOO HONORABLE TO VIOLATE HIS PAROLE, VIGO FIRST RETURNED TO HIS HOME IN ST. LOUIS AND THEN HURRIED TO KASKASKIA TO TELL THE AMERICAN COMMANDER ALL THAT HAD TAKEN PLACE AT VINCENNES.

VIGO GAVE CLARK ALL THE PARTICULARS OF THE SURRENDER OF THE POST, TOLD HIM THAT HAMILTON, OVERTAKEN BY WINTER, HAD POSTPONED HIS ATTACK ON KASKASKIA UNTIL SPRING, THAT HE HAD DISBANDED HIS ARMY AND WAS NOW HOLDING VINCENNES WITH ONLY A FEW REDCOATS AND INDIANS.

Grid Captains Pick All-American Team

Real All-American Team Chosen By Various College 1930 Grid
Leaders

Carideo And Swartz, Of Notre Dame, Given Backfield Posts, On Great
Eleven

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor

Here is the real All-American football team, an eleven selected not by coaches, sports writers and other observers, but by the players, themselves.

For the first time the opinions of the men who actually play the game have been obtained by the Central Press Association for The News and the consensus of their opinions has resulted in the selection of a real All-American football team.

Two hundred captains of college football teams were polled by the Central Press Association in a nation-wide survey. Each captain was asked to name only those men against or with whom he played.

Each captain was asked not to select eleven players, but as many as he, himself, believed after close observation on the gridiron, merited mention as an outstanding star.

The response was splendid. Scores of replies from every section came from captains who generously gave their aid in making the Football Captains' Own All-American a team representative of the best in football this season.

403 Players Named
Four hundred and three players were named by the captains. This number included 61 ends, 56 tackles, 60 guards, 38 centers, 41 quarterbacks, 108 halfbacks and 39 fullbacks.

Out of this great number the eleven men receiving the most votes (each captain casting one vote for each position) were picked. The result was the All-American team given below:

Ends—Frank Baker of Northwestern and Wesley Fesler of Ohio State.

Tackles—Fred Singleton of Alabama and Milo Lubratovich of Wisconsin.

Guards—Henry J. Wisniewski of Fordham and Barton Koch of Baylor.

Center—Mel Hein of Washington State.

Quarterback—Frank Carideo of Notre Dame.

Halfbacks—Marchmont Schwartz of Notre Dame and John Shaffer of Alabama.

Fullback—Leonard Macaluso of Colgate.

Backs—Fesler, Singleton, Lubratovich, Koch, Carideo and Macaluso led their nearest rivals by several votes.

Wisniewski was just one vote above Bert Metzger of Notre Dame and Wade Woodworth of Northwestern.

Mel Hein just nosed out Ben Ticknor of Harvard.

Schwartz received one vote more than Ernie Pinckert of Southern California.

An All-Star Eleven
The Captains' Own All-American is actually an All-Star eleven. Each man named by the leaders is a great player.

Wesley Fesler of Ohio State, this season was a football team in himself. He not only played brilliantly at end but starred as a back and also handled quarterback duties.

Northwestern's Frank Baker, snuggled passes like an Oosterbaan, and was as fleet as a pony half-back. He could and did grab pass after pass on the gallop.

At tackle are Fred Singleton and Milo Lubratovich, two big bruising young gents who tore opposing lines to shreds.

Singleton of Alabama was a terror to Dixie teams the star man of a star line. The Wisconsin giant plowed his way through such powerful lines as those of Minnesota and Northwestern.

Three times All-Southwestern, Barton Koch was unanimous choice for guard of all captains whose teams he opposed. Thrills and fast he used his great strength to batter Baylor's foes all season. Henry (Pete) Wisniewski was rated by the captains the best man of Fordham's great line and that included the brilliant center, Siano.

At center is Mel Hein, keystone of Washington State's unbeatable line attack.

Frank Carideo, the superb Notre Dame signal caller, of course, won the choice of the captains for quarterback. His selection was virtually unanimous.

Alabama's brilliant sophomore, John (Flash) Suther and Marchmont Schwartz of Notre Dame are the halfbacks and deservedly so.

Leonard Macaluso, Colgate's high scoring back, was another nearly unanimous choice by captains who opposed him.

These Helped Select Team
Among the scores of captains who participated in this naming of an All-American team were:

Ben Ticknor of Harvard, Harrison Simrall of Michigan, Olaf Robinson of Illinois, Frank Dietrich of Penn State, Carl Handy of Stanford, Milt Gantenbein of Wisconsin, Eddie Baker of Pittsburgh, I. G. Forquer of Kentucky, Frank Garrity of Holy Cross, Win Brockmeyer of Minnesota.

Harry Thayer of Tennessee, Hank Bruder of Northwestern, P. M. Bowston of United States Naval Academy, Leslie Hart of Colgate, Walter Gordon of West Virginia, Joe Scheffer of Vanderbilt, Bill Morris of Georgetown, E. S. Nash of North Carolina, Leo Segal of Vermont.

Maynard Spear of Iowa State, Leonard McGill of Missouri, Noble Atkins of Texas Christian, E. P. Bledsoe of Washington and Lee, Andy Dasturp of Brigham Young, Wesley Fesler of Ohio State (acting captain in many games), Edward Solomon of California, Southern Branch, Cletus Gardner of Villanova.

Bernard Johnstone of Colby, Cracker Brown of Cavanaugh, Bird Hooper of Virginia Poly, Harry Arlanson of Tufts, S. H. Conn of Haverford, Red Harline of Auburn, Frank Leonard of Thiel, Alfred Putnam of Pomona and many more, far too numerous to mention here.

Homers, Birdies, Races Pep May Sport Program

By JACK SORDS

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer

The roar of big league home runs enlivened the merry month of May, but turf and track, ring and links also drew the spotlight. Home run thrill seekers were sated by two record exhibitions. May 12 the Chicago Cubs equalled the all-time major league mark by hitting four home runs in one inning against the New York Giants. The Philadelphia Athletics, potential pennant winners, were victimized by Babe Ruth on May 21 and May 22, the Bambino smacking three homers each afternoon for a total of six in two days.

The only other outstanding baseball event was the breaking of the 1,102 consecutive game streak of Joe Sewell, Cleveland, Ill. with fever he was forced to miss his first contest in nearly a decade.

British golf triumphed over American links play when the British women's team defeated the American, eight matches to six at Sunningdale, England May 1. Two weeks later Glenna Collett, American champion again failed to win the British women's golf crown.

However, on May 31 Bobby Jones won his first British amateur title and began his "grand slam" the greatest streak of wins a golfer has ever had.

Billy Arnold's skill in winning Indianapolis world classic auto race victories in the Preakness and Kentucky Derby of Gallant Fox, defeat of Welterweight Champion Jackie Fields by Young Jack Thompson, dusky, aggressive, persevering and the running of the 100 yard dash in the Ohio relays by George Simpson, fleet Ohio Stater, in the remarkable time of nine and five-tenths seconds completed the sports picture of the month.

Spying On Sports

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor

Ice and snow may drape the nation's football stadia, moth balls and tar paper may encase mole skins and head harness, but the echo of the recent football season is still with us.

The echo consists of chatter on a national scale as to who will coach where and why.

The deposing of Lud Wray, following his first year as head coach at the University of Pennsylvania, only adds to the problem of the man who has switched from the oldtime sport of picking All-Americans to the new pastime of guessing coaches.

California's coaching troubles have been food for much contemplation and guessing on the part of grid fans. Among the coaches who have been mentioned as possible successors to Nibs Price have been Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, Dick Hanley of Northwestern, Pat Page of Indiana, Bob Zuppke, of Illinois, Babe Hollingberry of Washington State, in fact, almost everybody but Nibs Price himself.

With the California question still bothering the guessers Penn now adds to the problem. And hardly had the news of Wray's fate been made known when the guessers were at it again. The first name mentioned was Pop Warner's.

This guess is as good as any which may follow. The present Stanford coach knows the kind of football the east likes, especially Pennsylvania, in which state he put in several decades of labor coaching Carlisle and Pittsburgh elevens. To add to the report is the fact that Pop hasn't been so successful against Southern California in recent years.

Warner's return to the east would be, therefore in the nature of a home-coming. The east has always regarded Pop as one of its own and rightly so. Pop learned his football at Cornell and until Stanford made an attractive offer years ago spent virtually all his time in the Alleghenies or east of them.

IS THIS A PROPHETIC PICTURE?

A hint of what may be in the future is in this photo, which shows Max Schmeling, left, world's heavyweight champion, shaking hands with Primo Carnera, giant Italian pugilist, in Barcelona, Spain. Perhaps the next time the pair will meet and shake hands will be inside a roped ring and for the heavyweight crown.

What Do They Eat?
Recipes of Well-known Folks as told to VIOLET A. ROVER.

JOSEPH LEITER, millionaire clubman, of Chicago and Washington, satisfies his epicurean appetite occasionally with the following morsel, one of his favorite recipes, not only eaten but very often personally prepared by him.

CALVES' BRAINS IN OYSTER SHELLS
After you have thoroughly washed the brains, let them cook in a saucepan, after which you cut them in pieces. While this preparation is cooking, put a little veloute in a casserole and let it come to a boiling point, then thicken it with the yolk of an egg; add a little lemon juice; put in a piece of butter as large as a nut. Put the calves' brains in this liquid.

Spread some oyster shells, fill them with the former preparation, sprinkle on top with bread grated with cheese, and let brown in the oven.

Christian Endeavor Names New Officers

The members of the Christian Endeavor of the Central Presbyterian church met for their regular business session Monday evening in the church and held the last meeting of the year under the old officers.

Kenneth Atkinson was chosen as president for the year 1931; Arthur Pierce will act as vice; Mary Spence, secretary and Margaret Moser, treasurer.

At the close of election Dr. C. B. Wingerd commended the old officers on the splendid work of the organization during the past year and urged the new officers to "carry on" in the same manner.

The new officers each made brief remarks after which plans were made for the packing of Christmas baskets, to be delivered to the needy of the city.

A social period in charge of Gladys McNeas, Opal Rodgers, Kenneth Atkinson and Scott Lowery was brought to a close with refreshments.

January 19, 1931 will mark the date of the next meeting, when the new officers will take their places.

Thoughts Of Peace At Yuletide Season Brought Out At Club

Woman's Club Reaffirms Stand For U. S. Entrance Into World Court

"Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men" was the song that rang out ages ago upon the birth of the Savior and today the echo of this song is heard in all nations, with the thoughts of the country turned to "Peace Among the Nations" and in connection with this thought the Woman's club of New Castle at their meeting Monday afternoon adopted a resolution to this effect:

WHEREAS, the members of The Woman's Club believe that accession to the Permanent Court of International Justice will give concrete meaning to the United States signature of the Kellogg Pact providing our purpose to settle disputes in the future by law rather than by war; and

WHEREAS, the general principle of our adherence to the Court was settled in 1926 in the Senate by an overwhelming vote, with five reservations, and

WHEREAS, the member nations of the Court have accepted these reservations as proposed by our jurist, Elihu Root.

WHEREAS, The General Federation of Women's Clubs of which The Woman's Club is an integral part has declared its support of the World Court measure as the next step toward world peace.

Therefore be it resolved: that at this season when our thoughts are directed toward "Peace on Earth, Good Will toward Men" the Woman's Club reaffirm its stand of adherence and urge the Senate to consider the World Court measure "as soon as possible after the emergency relief and appropriation legislation has been disposed of."

Co-Ed Leader of Havana Riots

Girl student haranguing a mob of students in the streets of Havana. Student unrest has again burst out in a series of riots in which one Cuban youth was killed and a number of others seriously injured. The demonstration was in protest against the arrest of fifteen Sagua students, who were taken under military guard to Havana, presumably because of the arrest of a Sagua student considered safe.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Utilities Stock Lead In Market Rallies

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Recoveries in the industrial stocks and the Utilities and Specialties today restored from 1 to 2½ points of the losses sustained near the close of yesterday's irregular session. The Utilities stocks were the leaders in the early rally, and the Coppers snapped back briskly, with Anaconda up 2 points at 28. United States Steel at 139 showed a gain of more than 3 points over yesterday's low, and Delaware Lackawanna, in the Rail group, was up 6 points at 75½.

There were still a number of weak spots, Coca Cola being pushed down 5 points on fairly heavy selling and corn products sold at the year's low price at 69½. Standard Oil of New Jersey was pounded down to a new low at 48, a block of 5,000 shares selling at that price. Gillette razor, Texas Gulf Sulphur and Kruger & Trol dropped to a new low for the year.

General conditions in and out of the market were unchanged. Cotton rallied nearly a dollar a bale, but Grain and Commodities showed little improvement. Little improvement in the Steel industry is looked for until after the turn of the year and buying of Copper is small even at the 9½-cent bootleg price. Copper producers mean-while are out of the market.

The selling wave gained momentum in the second hour. The bears pounded the high-priced Specialties and forced wide declines in Coca Cola, Case Threshing, etc., and Coppers were headed definitely downward at the noon period.

Steps Off Bus Struck By Auto Leg Fractured

Henry B. Byler of Enon Valley R. D. 2 met with an accident this morning that put him in the Jameson Memorial hospital with a compound fracture of the left leg just a little above the ankle.

Mr. Byler was a passenger on the bus on the Wilmington road and when he came to Cook's corner he alighted, walked across the bus to cross the road, when a car coming in the opposite direction from the Shaffer of West Middlesex, struck him and knocked him down.

Byler was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where it was learned he had received a compound fracture of the leg which will lay him up for some time.

Oldest Scholar

Adam Y. Berry, 75, is believed to be the oldest grade school student in the United States. He started in the kindergarten, six years ago and is in the sixth grade now at Council Bluffs, Ia. He says: "Knowing how to read and write—even as I do—is the biggest pleasure I get out of life. People do not realize the handicap of a man who must go through life without being able to read or write."

Bo Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Scanning a page of art criticism recently, in a highbrow journal, I encountered the following comment on some paintings by Bill Patty, at the Fifteen Gallery:

"Two interesting landscapes done in Vermont and the Blue Ridge mountains respectively, are included in the exhibition. Here, too, the gentle intimacies of nature bring forth the best in Patty's work."

And, thinks I, the same may be said of Charles Partlow Sale's friend, The Specialist.

CHESTNUT VENDORS

Each year at this time the chestnut vendor makes his appearance on the curbs of Tammany Town's teeming thoroughfares.

Sad eyed and soiled, these polyglot peddlers maintain lonely vigil from early morn till dewy eve, by their charcoal burners. Their sales are few, their profits scant. I've often wondered what peculiar mental twist holds them chained to that one particular, trying and unremunerative vocation.

The season is short—six weeks or a little over. The other 46 weeks of the year they evidently spend in training for their brief period of activity, because when the chestnut season is over they slide back into oblivion and are seen no more until another year rolls round and the frost is on the pumpkin an' the fodder's in th' shock.

This year the poor fellows crept out of the shadows with their wooden stalls spic and span and their charcoal burners fittingly burnished, only to find the choicest corner—the places of vantage—preempted by an army of apple sellers.

Give a thought to the chestnut vendors.

Remember them in your prayers.

ANSWERING THE CALL

If you saw "The Green Pastures" you certainly must remember the chap who played the Angel Gabriel—the very black gentleman with the golden wings, who made his first entrance crying: "Gangway for de Lawd!" and whom "De Lawd" addressed as "Gabe".

Well, he quit the cast the other night without a moment's notice for a better and more permanent engagement.

He was run down by a taxicab and killed.

Mayor Relief Body In Session

Plans For Further Relief Work In City Are Considered

MORE OFFERS OF AID PRESENTED

With Christmas only nine days distant and the yuletide spirit already permeating the city of New Castle, members of the Mayor William H. Gillespie's committee on relief convened last night and made it plain that if within their power no child would be hungry Christmas day.

The committee adopted John Higgins' motion that mothers in needy families fill in a coupon, published in today's New Castle News, and notify the committee and if they do, they will receive food and there'll not be one hungry person on Christmas day.

Orville Potter, chairman of the committee told colleagues that there is great need of children's serviceable clothing and any person having clothing which is good, for wear should notify him at 3106 and a truck will come whirling to the family who wishes to help some other little 'tot' keep warm.

To Prevent Overlapping
Mayor Gillespie was authorized to call a round-table session of all heads of charitable organizations here to prevent as much "overlapping" as possible. The meeting will be held at one o'clock, Wednesday afternoon at city hall.

The mayor notified the committee that Ed. Fritz of Castle bowl had offered to run a big charity boxing show in January or later if the committee desired for the benefit of the needy.

The offer was accepted as it was realized that with conditions no better after Christmas the committee will have need of further finances.

It is believed that the affair will be one of the biggest that has ever been held here and as the bowl can seat several thousand it should be packed. The mayor was also told he could have the bowl free for any other move to lessen distress.

Tom Moore of the Loyal Order of Moose, lodge 51, presented on behalf of the L. O. M., lodge 51, a check for $100, which was added to the committee's fund.

This $100 was augmented by $56.90, turned over by the management of the Marcella-Croton football game played Saturday and these two amounts, added to the city employees fund, gives the committee a total fund of $511.90.

It was reported that Dr. Wayne Bissell, Jameson Memorial hospital, is furnishing 100 gallons of good, wholesome hot soup daily to the needy after which John Higgins said:

"We do not want a hungry child here Christmas day. It is up to the mothers of families we cannot reach to let us know they are in need. Let us publish a coupon in The News they can sign and mail to us."

The suggestion was put in the form of a motion, concurred in and the coupon is presented in today's edition of The News. Mothers in needy families have a duty to perform—to see it is signed and no hunger exists.

I. J. (Ike) Miller, representing the Lawrence County Bakers association reported that 327 loaves of bread had been given by the association, Thanksgiving day to charity organization and then made another fine offer.

He said: "The Lawrence County Bakers association stand ready to furnish all the bread necessary for the baskets that the mayor's committee gives out." The good offer was accepted immediately and the association thanked.

The members will bring 10 cent presents.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Some of those "old Spanish" customs are taking it on the cuff it seems. Just when it seemed as though the king could sit back and enjoy himself and let the dictator run things, up jumps a bunch of the boys and decided they wanted a Republic, and a king has about as much use for a Republic as they have for rubber tired buggies in Detroit.

Seems that the flying major, Ramon Franco got put in jail for spitting on the sidewalk or some other serious offense and not liking his cell, escaped and started a revolution. Bigger and better jails was the motto of the revolutionists. Spanish onions were used as bombs and Spanish fandango used by the troops in marching.

Late reports from the bull fighting country are to the effect that the present revolution blew up like a toy balloon but another one is expected on Thursday. They have a half holiday there Wednesday and couldn't think of starting a revolution.

Found out last night where the doctors get all of those old magazines you see around the office. One of them broke down and confessed. Seems that a medical student goes for magazine subscription selling in the summer when he is going through medical school. Keeps all the subscribers and then when he gets his shingle out, goes around and collects the magazines.

One of the newer docs has a radio in waiting room. Keeps the customers interested without letting them strain their eyes on old magazines. A few Saturdays ago when one of the big football games were on a patient, or maybe it was a client or a customer came in for an appointment. The football game began coming in and he wanted to hear it all. As the game finished he looked at his watch and said "can't wait for that appointment now, haven't got time."

Now the doctor wonders if he should send him a bill for entertainment.

There's one thing that any New Castle citizen can be proud of in this town and that is the hospital facilities we have. Happened up around the Jameson Memorial hospital yesterday afternoon and dropped in for a few minutes chin music with the director, Dr. Wayne Bissell.

It takes a peculiar type of individual to run a hospital and Doc Bissell is the type that fits like a tailor made vest. Hospital patients are not normal, if they were they wouldn't be in a hospital, and being less than normal for the time, things look differently than they do ordinarily.

To be able to take the reactions of sick people and not lose your disposition, to keep the hospital's many activities functioning and not get dizzy, to see that the highest standards of the medical and surgical profession are lived up to, these and a thousand and one other things are the work of a hospital director.

Few of us really support hospitals in the way we should. Hardly a hospital in the entire country but charges less per day for its service than it actually spends. And yet their worth to individuals and communities is not measurable in dollars and cents.

This protest comes from the West Side and it is a genuine one. Several years ago when West Washington street was repaved, the street sign at the corner of Lee avenue and West Washington street was either taken down or knocked down. It has never been put up and is still on the ground out there.

Some of the readers on the West Side (oh yes we have them out there, smarty) wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea to have the sign put up so people looking for Lee avenue could find it. And if Stan Trester still reads The News, perhaps he can send a man up there and have the sign put up.

The woman got up herself and walked to the sidewalk. She declined to go to a physician for examination. She said that she thought her hip was bruised.

Tri-State Holds Meeting Monday

The Tri-State Conference heads gathered in Pittsburgh Monday night, and discussed various matters of importance to the league. Among the items for discussion was the admission of Allegheny, Grove City, West Virginia, Wesleyan and Marshall, to the conference, but nothing definite resulted.

It has long been the aim of the Tri-State to enlarge its organization to include the schools mentioned above, but so far no definite steps have been taken. All of the schools had representatives at the meeting, but it was only a "talk-over" session as Andy McDonald, Westminister, said today.
